Cartoon and Caricature

Cartoon and caricature styles exaggerate features and traits, often adding humor and lightheartedness to the portrayal of a businessman. This approach can be effective in presentations or marketing materials that aim to engage an audience in a fun way. Artists often use bold lines, vibrant colors, and exaggerated expressions to convey personality traits and emotions.

Abstract and Conceptual Art

Abstract and conceptual drawings allow for more freedom and creativity, often focusing on themes and emotions rather than literal representations. This style can incorporate symbols and metaphors related to business, such as graphs, buildings, and other elements that evoke corporate environments.
