Understanding Business Select

Business Select is a premium fare option provided by Southwest Airlines, aimed at travelers seeking greater flexibility and additional services. This fare type is particularly attractive to business professionals who may require last-minute travel changes or desire a more comfortable flying experience. Business Select is not only about the seat but encompasses a range of benefits that enhance the overall travel experience.

When booking a Business Select ticket, travelers can expect to enjoy priority boarding, which allows them to secure overhead bin space and settle into their seats before the general boarding process begins. This is especially beneficial on busy flights where overhead space may be limited. Additionally, Business Select fares often include the option to earn more Rapid Rewards points, enhancing loyalty benefits for frequent flyers.

The features associated with Business Select tickets are designed to cater to the needs of business travelers. Below are some key features that distinguish Business Select from other fare types:

- Priority Boarding: Business Select passengers are allowed to board in the A1-A15 group, ensuring they have access to overhead storage and can settle in comfortably.
- Flexible Ticketing: Business Select fares come with no change fees, allowing travelers to modify their itineraries without incurring additional costs.
- Increased Rapid Rewards Points: Passengers flying on Business Select earn more Rapid Rewards points compared to Wanna Get Away or Anytime fares.

Comparing Business Select with Other Fare Types

Southwest Airlines offers several fare types, each designed to meet different travel needs.

Understanding how Business Select compares to other fare types can help travelers make informed decisions.

Wanna Get Away

The Wanna Get Away fare is the most economical option offered by Southwest Airlines. While it provides significant savings, it lacks many of the benefits associated with Business Select, such as priority boarding and flexibility. Wanna Get Away tickets are non-refundable and come with change fees.

Anytime Fare

The Anytime fare sits between Business Select and Wanna Get Away in terms of price and benefits. It offers more flexibility than Wanna Get Away but does not include the same level of priority boarding or point accumulation as Business Select. Anytime fares are refundable and allow changes without fees, making them a viable option for some travelers.
