Strategies for Winning

Know Your Letters

Start by guessing common letters such as vowels (A, E, I, O, U) and frequently used consonants (R, S, T, L). These letters appear in many words, giving you a solid foundation for making further guesses.

Look for Patterns

As you start filling in letters, look for common prefixes and suffixes. Recognizing these patterns can help you anticipate what the word might be. For example, if you see "____ing," you might guess "D" to see if the word is "Dancing."

Use Context Clues

If you've chosen a specific category, use context clues to your advantage. For example, if the category is "Animals," and you have a few letters filled in, think about what animals make sense within that pattern.

Keep Track of Incorrect Guesses
