How to Approach a "Which Goddess Am I Quiz"

Consider your gut reactions, your habitual behaviors, and the roles you most naturally fall into.

When presented with choices, try to select the option that most closely aligns with your inner feelings or your typical way of being, rather than how you think you should be or how you want to appear. Think about your core motivations, your preferred methods of operation, and the energies you naturally exude. Do you lead with logic or emotion? Are you more drawn to nurturing or independence? Are you a planner or a spontaneous adventurer? These internal reflections are key to unlocking a meaningful result.
